

Backwater

Key: E

Intro E - C#m - C - D

Verse

E - F# - C - E

*And when I wake up in the morning
To feel the daybreak on my face
There's a blood that's flowin' through the feeling
With a knife to open up the sky's veins*

Chorus

E - C#m - C - D

*Some things will never change
They stand there... Half unconscious from the pain
They may seem rearranged
In the backwater swirling... something that will never change*

Verse

E - F# - C - E

*And when I shoulda been gone a long time
Laughs and says, I find ways
Just when we're sheltered under paper
The rockets come at us sideways*

Chorus

E - C#m - C - D

*Some things will never change
They stand there... Half unconscious from the pain
They may seem rearranged
In the backwater swirling... something that will never change*

Interlude

F - G

Bridge

A - E
C - D
A - E
C - D

*Hey, I'm blind
Good, fine
Roll the time
On whose dime*

***Guitar Solo E - C#m - C - D

Verse

E - F# - C - E

*And when I wake up in the morning
To feel the daybreak on my face
There's a blood that's flowin' through the feeling
With a knife to open up the sky's veins*

Chorus

E - C#m - C - D

*Some things will never change
They stand there... Half unconscious from the pain
They may seem rearranged
In the backwater swirling... something that will never change*

Chorus

E - C#m - C - D

*Some things will never change
They stand there... Half unconscious from the pain
They may seem rearranged
In the backwater swirling... something that will never change*

***Outro Solo E - C#m - C - D (4x)